

New Head of Analytical Chemistry

In November 2016 Dr. Elmar Mohrhardt succeeded Dr. Michael Knauer as head of the Analytical Chemistry Department at PFI. He introduces himself in this issue of the Newsletter.

The appearance of new names and new faces always raises questions. I would therefore like to take this opportunity to introduce myself: My name is Elmar Mohrhardt, I am 32 years of age, married, and have a son. After completing my study of chemistry with a doctoral dissertation at the Fraunhofer Institute for Biomedical Engineering (Fraunhofer Institut für Biomedizinische Technik, IBMT) I have taken on the multifaceted and responsible role of Head of the Analytical Chemistry Department at PFI.

My sincere desire is to secure the existing high level of fast-response, reliable, and on-schedule customer service provided by PFI's Analytical Chemistry Department. I would therefore like to place my expertise at your disposal in an open and collaborative partnership to our mutual benefit.

Looking forward to an era of fruitful cooperation,

Dr. Elmar Mohrhardt
